

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. - 4031 Fall of princes. Translated into English verse, by John de Lidgate. A fine copy on vellum. Sec. xv. with a poem and prayer before the beginning of a later hand-writing. This book has been the various properties of Thomas Lord Dacres, Dame Anne Dacres, Maistres Ellenore, sister to Lord Dacres, Elizabeth Carewe, and William Saunders.

On a leaf at the end is an old prophecy beginning.

When the cocke of the North hath bilde his neste,
And busked his briddes, and boundeth hem to fle,
Then shall fortune's frende the yates up caste,
And right shall have his free entree:
Then the moon shall rise in the North-West
In a cloud as black as the bill of a crowe,
Then shall be lowfed the boldest and the best
That ei was in Britaine sith Arthur's daies.

JOHN DEE.

- 3677 1. Mysteriorum libri 6, or an account of his conference with angels, from Dec. 27, 1581, to the end of May, 1583, at the end is the following note.

I copied this from Dr. Dee's original with my owne hand, and finished it the 13th of August 2 h. 15. P. M. 1674. E. Ashmole.

2. A

2. An account of other conferences, Oct. 16, 1585, Sep. 17, 18, and 22, 1580, and other notes.

3. Account of the apparition to discover hid money. At the beginning is the following account of the preservation of Dr. Dee's papers. Be it remembered, that the 20th of August, 1672, I received from the hands of my servant Samuel Story, a parcell of Dr. Dee's manuscripts, all written with his own hands, viz. his conference with angells, which first began the 22d of December, 1581, and continued to the end of May 1583, where the printed books of the remaining conference (published by Dr. Casaubon) begins and are bound up in this volume.

Besides these, the book intituled the quatuor claves Angelicæ, also liber scientiæ terrestriæ auxilii & victoriæ, (these two being those very individual books, which the angels commanded to be burnt (Apr. 10,) and was after restored by them, (Apr. 30, 1586,) as appears by the printed relation of Dr. Dee's actions with spirits p. 418, 419) the book intituled, de heptarchiâ mysticâ collectaneorum lib. primus, and a book of invocations, or calls, beginning with the squares filled with letters about the black cross. These four books I have bound in another volume, of both of which these are transcripts. Made with my own hand.

All which were a few days after delivered to my servant for my perusal (I being then at Mr. William Lillie's house of Hersham in Surry,) by my good friend Mr. Thomas Wale, one of his Majestie's warders in the tower of London.

The first of Sept. following Mr. Wale (having heard of my retourne to town) came to my office in the excise office in Broadstreet, and told me he was content to exchange all the aforefaid books for one of myne, viz. the institution, lawes, and le remonier of the most noble Order of the Garter; to this agreed, and provided one, which I sent him fairly bound, and gilt on the back.

As a further testimony of the fence of Mr. Wale's kindness (shortly after his death) I sent for his son, and bestowed on him one of my deputie's places in the excise, with an allowance of 80l. per annum.

On the 10th of the said Sept. Mr. Wale came thither to me again, and brought his wife with him, from her I received the following account of the preservation of these books, even till they came to my hand, viz. that her former husband was one Mr. Jones, a confectioner, who formerly dwelt at the Plow in Lombard-Street, London, and who, shortly after they were married, took her with him into Adle-Street among the joiners, to buy some household stuff, where (at the corner house) they saw a chest of cedar wood, about a yard and an half long, whose lock and hinges being extraordinary neat work invited them to buy it. The master of the the shop told them it had been parcel of the goods of one Mr. John Woodall shirurgeon (father to Mr. Thomas Woodall, late serjeant chirurgeon to his now majesty King Charles the Second my intimate friend) and 'tis very probable he bought it after Mr. Dee's death, when his goods were exposed to sale.

Twenty years after this (and about 4 years before the fatal fire of London) her husband and she occasionally removing this chest out of its usual place, thought they heard some loose thing rattle in it, toward the right hand end, under the box or till thereof; and by shaking it, were fully satisfied it was soe; thereupon her husband thrust a piece of iron into a small crevice at the bottom of the chest, and thereupon appeared a private drawer, which being drawn out, therein were found divers books in manuscript and papers, together with a little box, and therein a chaplet of olive beads, and a cross of the wood hanging at the end of them.

They made no great matter of these books, &c. because they understood them not; which occasioned their servant maid to waft about one half of them under pyes, and other like uses, which when discovered, they kept the rest more safe.

About two years after the discovery of these books Mr. Jones died; and when the fire of London happened, though the chest perished in the flames, because not easily to be removed, yet the books were taken out and carried with the rest of Mrs. Jones her goods into Moorfields, and being brought safely back, she took care to preserve them: and after marrying with the aforefaid Mr. Wale, he came to the knowledge of them, and thereupon with her consent sent them to me, as I have before set down. E. Ashmole.

* EDW. STAFFORD.

Hæres domus subversæ Buckinghamorum.

* Edward Lord Stafford in the 28th of Q. Elizabeth.

This very curious roll was presented by Gustavus Brander, Esq; 1782, who printed (in Octavo 1780) a few copies of it for his friends, friends, one of which he presented herewith. The work was prepared for the press, and the preface and notes were written by Mr. Brander's learned friend the Rev. Mr. Samuel Pegge, who also added another MS. on the same subject of the year 1381. After some impressions were thrown off, several accounts of the feasts in the Neville family, and an extract from a MS. account of the gild of the Holy Trinity at Luton, in the county of Bedford, were subjoined, when the editor's name was (by Mr. Brander's particular request) added to the epistle dedicatory. It seems necessary to say so much, as it does not appear from the printed copy, presented with the roll, who was the editor, it being one of the first impressions.

- 5017 Orders for the government of the royal red-chamber and privy lodgings, with the districts of the same, dated April 14, 1685. Anno 1. Jac. II.

This MS. was presented by Samuel Pegge, Esq; the author of a work now publishing in parts under the general title of CURIALIA. The donor, in his letter of presentation, observes upon this MS. that never having before seen any ORDERS regarding this particular branch of the royal establishment, he hopes it may not be unworthy of being deposited in the British Museum.
